OBSERVATIONS

middle age broke and who amassed millions and millions after his hair was white with age—the man who more than any other is responsible for the launching of the oil industry in Southern California. E. L. Doheny carried into industry the code of the mining camp—in which it is understood that anything belongs to him who is able to take it—that the means justifies the end.

The passage of Pan-American control to Standard opens a new chapter in the world struggle for oil. The two great American companies which have heretofore fought each other in a bitter struggle while the European combine worked in unity are now joined. The combination strengthens the American interests. From that standpoint word of the transaction should be good news to the American public.

NOW it is whispered that the Prince of Wales will wed the niece of the King of Sweden. With the whisper comes the statement that British Royalty has been put to considerable trouble in finding a girl of royal blood in Europe as a bride for Prince Charming. The bar of religion checked his betrothal to an Italian princess. And the field of royal girls was limited. The absurd business of insisting that royalty wed royalty will be out of date before many years. So many kings lost their jobs after the war that the task of mating royal youths and maidens is now tremendous—especially when the youth apparently doesn't wish to wed and is the sort of a person who thinks that he ought to have the right to choose his own wife.

SPURLIN COURT

Mrs. Burke and family, who have been managing the court for the past two years, are returning to their home in Monrovia, and Mr. Malham, who had the management of the court four years previous to the time Mrs. Burke took charge, will take their place.

Mrs. Slinkard spent Tuesday at Hawthorne with her friends, Mrs. E. J. Parker.

WHEN YOU BUILD THAT HOME

A house built entirely of brick at this time is very little more costly than frame and of course we all know more substantial. Cooler in summer, warmer in winter, more water proof. Saves the price of painting every year, saves on insurance, is everlastingly free from repairs, and above all is more beautiful.

See our many beautiful designs at our yard.
We will help you with your plans.

All who ever lived in the state of Washington are called to meet under the auspices of the Washington State Society for a great picnic reunion all day Saturday, April 11, in Sycamore Grove Park.

At the meeting of Triple City Lodge No. 333, I. O. O. F., held Tuesday evening, M. P. Richey and Walter Tappin Jr. were appointed delegates to the Grand Lodge, to be held in San Francisco in May.

The landscape gardener is busy on the lawns and in the parks in Columbia Court.

Gilbert, Hanson and Page, realtors, will occupy the new building which they are constructing on Post avenue between Sartori and Cravens avenues.

George Bau, 19-year-old stepson of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Lewis of 2227 Arlington avenue, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Redondo-Hermosa hospital Saturday, and is recovering rapidly.

Miss Lingenfelter Wins in Oratory On Constitution

Miss Martha Lingenfelter, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Lingenfelter, won the Torrance oratorical contest on the Constitution of the United States and will deliver her oration at the district contest at Wilmington Saturday. The winner of the district contest will compete in the county contest, after which the state contest will be held. The winner in California will go to Washington to compete in the national contest.

Miss Lingenfelter yesterday delivered her oration before the Rotary Club of Torrance.

Farmers to Fight Westwood Site measure for buildings at the Westwood site, if the Torrance decline to reconsider their decision.

One of the farm blocbers said: "We do not wish to be understood as putting out a threat, but if we are crowded on this matter we have votes enough to block any measure for appropriations for the branch university, unless it is located in a proper place."

"That Beverly region is not a good place for a university, and an agricultural station is an impossibility there."

"We do not threaten, but we cannot see our way to support measures to finance the Westwood location. And we certainly do not want to see another Davis farm developed in the south; that means that agricultural students will be deprived of the university atmosphere and influences."

J. L. Hughes of house J has a position at Van Nuys, where he is staying for the present. His family is remaining in Torrance.

WHAT'S ON AT THE LOMITA THEATRE

Last times today—The Northwest Mounted Police in Person and "It's Cheaper to Marry," featuring Lewis Stone, Conrad Nagel.

Saturday—"On the Stroke of Three," featuring Kenneth Harlin, Madge Bellamy and Mary Carr. Second chapter of "Idaho," and a Hamilton comedy.

Sunday—Three acts of big time vaudeville. "Silk Stocking Sal," featuring Evelyn Brent and Billie Sullivan in the "Leather Pushers." Monday and Tuesday—Charles Ray in "Percy."

Charlie Murray, one of the screen's best known comedians, has created in the character of "Holy Joe," an itinerant evangelist and cold deck artist, a comedy classic in the new Charles Ray feature, "Percy," which comes to the Lomita theatre Monday and Tuesday. "Holy Joe" is a product of the "great open spaces" of the Mexican frontier. He sells Bibles in the Bible belt and playing cards in the poker belt. He can throw a mean quotation when occasion arises, and can always find an extra ace when necessity demands.

His constant companion, guide, and, as Merton says, "Severest critic," is the Rocky Mountain Canary pictured above. "Percy" is said to be a delightful mixture of comedy, drama and thrilling action, and presents an excellent cast. It is a Thomas H. Ince production, released by Pathe.

Born

To Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Whitacre of 2816 East Chestnut street, Lomita, April 2, a son, Harlan Jr.

To Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Kelley of 2937 Pine street, Lomita, April 2, a son, Ralph Francis.
